

Southern Snowdonia 4/5/6 March Michael & Helen

Cadair Idris is very rugged but green and has stunning views – especially on the lake it surrounds. There are several routes up the mountain, which can be conquered by anybody. Cadair Idris is one of the lesser visited and lesser known mountains of Snowdonia, but well worth it. Closer by are other interesting mountain ranges we may visit.

Last year we also visited the Coed y Brenin forest park, with lovely waterfalls.

Hut

We are going to stay in an award winning three-star hostel in Corris. It is a school over a 100 years old. The hut is big but is really cosy, with a huge log fire and a very nice atmosphere. There are several big rooms for sharing, and one 8 person room will be allocated to girls only. We rented the entire hut, and it is absolutely massive, it can have up to 45 people. Last year's trip was a big success with 38 people.

Leaving

Friday the 4th of March at 17:00. We have 3 minibuses so as soon as one is full, it will leave immediately. Return: 6th of March on Broad Street before 21:00

Cost: £70
